To Whom It May Concern:

I have worked with and been supported by the Information Technology staff of Alamo City Engineering Services Inc (ACES), specifically Mr. Craig T. Stephens, and I give them my highest recommendations for their "Integrity", "work ethic" and "Espirit de Corps".

I have been the Multi-National Corps-Iraq C9/Contracting Officer Representative for the past year, from May 2007 to May 2008, and it was during this period we requested and were approved to have ACES address the IT challenges that were adversely affecting the ability of the staff to respond rapidly to short lead time tasking. Our IT challenges were "significant".

Mr. Stephens began working 14-18 hours a day the day he arrived, and continued at this pace throughout the year. His talents were needed by other staff sections and he engaged to assist ARA (Army Reserve Affairs), the Under Secretary of the Army Brinkley Group as well as SOSi and OSS who are contractors that support C9.

It is very important to note that ACES/ Mr. Stephens' extended hours of support are not called for in his contract. He saw a job that needed to be accomplished and he accomplished it. There was never a question whether this task or that task was his responsibility; he always assisted no matter what the task was.

I wish all contractors were as easy to work with, ACES made it very easy.

I give my strongest recommendation to ACES; they did the job and more.

Sincerely,
David Ferris
